REPORTS RELEVANT TO MIGRATION

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Working Group of experts on people of African descent	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the role of negative racial stereotypes and the stereotyping of people of African descent in perpetuating racially biased decision-making, racial disparities and racial injustice, examining, among other things, immigration and migrants in the context of rising anti-immigration rhetoric and xenophobia ( A/74/274 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the Working Group's 22nd session held in Geneva, Switzerland from 19 to March 2018, which focused on the theme “Framework for a declaration on the promotion and full respect of human rights of people of African descent” , concluding that criminalization of irregular entry and other discriminatory State actions, including immigration legislation and practices, perpetuate negative perceptions of migrants and people of African descent, while bolstering support for right-wing extremism; recommending that States should strengthen human rights training and awareness-raising activities designed for immigration officials, border police, the staff of detention centers and prisons, local authorities and civil servants in charge of enforcing laws and that national security forces should receive training on the proper treatment of migrants and asylum seekers; and further recommending that the draft declaration on the promotion and full respect of human rights of people of African descent should include provisions on the protection of migrants, refugees and asylum seekers of African descent ( A/HRC/39/69 ).
Independent Expert on the enjoyment of human rights of persons with albinism	2018	Interim report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on ensuring persons with albinism are not left behind in the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development , outlining, among other things, additional specific measures that would be relevant in the context of SDG 16 in the case of persons with albinism within refugees or camps for internally displaced persons, such as preparing, through community and family awareness-raising, communities concerned to receive displaced persons with albinism and setting up official records of displaced persons with albinism ( A/73/181 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Independent Expert on the enjoyment of human rights of persons with albinism (continued)	2018	Report presented to the 37th session of the HRC in 2018 on the right to health and persons with albinism , addressing, among other things, the particular health challenges that persons with albinism who are also displaced face ( A/HRC/37/57 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the applicable international human rights standards and related obligations addressing the issues faced by persons with albinism , examining, among other things, how some aspects of international refugee law have been applied to persons with albinism as well as the rights of internally displaced persons ( A/72/131 ).
Working Group on Arbitrary Detention	2021	Report presented to the 47th session of the HRC in 2021 on arbitrary detention relating to drug policies , also examining discriminatory drug control measures directed at migrants ( A/HRC/47/40 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the issue of consular assistance and diplomatic protection for persons deprived of liberty , presenting in the annex its revised deliberation No. 5 on deprivation of liberty of migrants, which it adopted in November 2017 ( A/HRC/39/45 ).
	2015	Report presented to the 30th session of the HRC in 2015 setting forth the United Nations Basic Principles and Guidelines on Remedies and Procedures on the Right of Anyone Deprived of Their Liberty to Bring Proceedings Before a Court , which have provisions specifically addressing migrants, including Principle 21 providing specific measures for non-nationals, including migrants regardless of their migration status, asylum seekers, refugees and stateless persons ( A/HRC/30/37 ).
Working Group on the issue of human rights and transnational corporations and other business enterprises	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the meaning of policy coherence in practice under the Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights , noting that improvements in policy coherence can help address the challenges faced by individuals and groups who are at heightened risk of business-related human rights abuses, such as migrant workers ( A/74/198 ).
Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Cambodia	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 assessing protection of those at risk of being left behind under Cambodia's new localization development plan for achieving the 2030 Agenda , discussing how migrant workers remain an group of concern ( A/HRC/42/60/Add.1 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 on the on the human rights situation in Cambodia, analysing the Cambodian Sustainable Development Goals in relation to the 2030 SDGs, including discussing some aspects of migrants in this context and noting that, beyond geographical differences, attention will also need to be paid to specific groups that are most at risk of being left behind, including, among others, asylum seekers, refugees, and migrant workers ( A/HRC/42/60 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the situation of human rights in Cambodia, discussing, among other things, the situation of asylum seekers and refugees ( A/HRC/39/73 ).
Independent Expert on the situation of human rights in Central African Republic	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 on the on the situation of human rights in the Central African Republic, discussing, among other things, the humanitarian situation concerning refugees and internally displaced persons ( A/HRC/42/61 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the on the situation of human rights in the Central African Republic, discussing, among other things, the humanitarian situation concerning refugees and internally displaced persons , recommending that sub-regional cooperation on, among other things, refugee protection issues should be strengthened ( A/HRC/39/70 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 36th session of the HRC in 2017 on the on the situation of human rights in the Central African Republic, discussing, among other things, the humanitarian situation concerning refugees and internally displaced persons and recommending that the Government should strengthen advocacy and action to ensure a humanitarian response that is in line with the urgent needs for assistance and protection of populations affected by fresh outbreaks of violence, in particular displaced persons and refugees and to create the necessary conditions, in those areas where it can be done, to enable voluntary and sustainable return and reintegration, taking into account the exercise of the right to property and goods ( A/HRC/36/64 ).
	2016	Report presented to the 33rd session of the HRC in 2016 on the on the situation of human rights in the Central African Republic, discussing, among other things, the human rights situation of refugees and internally displaced persons , and calling on the risk from fundamentalist and extremist violence and abuse, including as a result of exercising their cultural rights, are given asylum, are not returned to contexts where they will be at risk and are fully protected, including from xenophobic attack, while in refugee camps and centers ( A/HRC/34/56 ).

	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on a human rights approach to the intentional destruction of cultural heritage in conflict and non-conflict situations by States and non-State actors , recommending, among other things, that States should recognize the role that cultural rights and cultural heritage preservation can play in the integration and rehabilitation of refugees and displaced persons after trauma, and in giving refugees a place to which to return, as well as their importance in post-conflict stabilization and reconciliation; ensure the cultural rights of refugees and displaced persons; grant asylum to at-risk cultural heritage professionals and defenders when necessary; and ensure that displaced cultural heritage professionals are able to continue their professional work and training in exile and to take part in the protection and reconstruction of their country's cultural heritage ( A/71/317 ).
Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the human rights situation in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, discussing, among other things, the situation of refugees and recommending that the UNHCR should be granted permission "to travel to relevant border areas to enable escapees of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea access to their right to seek asylum from persecution" ( A/74/275/Rev.1 ).
Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea (continued)	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on the human rights situation in the Democratic People's Republic of Korea, noting that grave violations continue to be committed on a large scale and particularly affect the most vulnerable groups, including, among others, migrant workers and urging the Government of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea to protect the people of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea who have sought refuge in, or are transiting through, a Member State's territory by abiding by the principle of non-refoulement ( A/70/362 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on the right to development	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the explicit link between the right to development and disaster risk reduction and its practical implications , noting that it is crucial to identify who the stakeholders included in the national and local platforms for disaster risk reduction or other consultative mechanisms should be and that relevant stakeholders under the Sendai Framework include, among others, migrants and recommending that States, as part of their gender-oriented planning, should take into consideration the fact that women are not a homogeneous group, and they should therefore pay particular attention to women with multiple vulnerabilities, who may be harder to reach, including, among others, migrant women ( A/74/163 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 presenting guidelines and recommendations on the practical implementation of the right to development , recommending, among other things, that States receiving migrants should view these rights holders as agents of development rather than addressing migration as a security issue and that, in their monitoring and evaluation policies, States should take into account groups that have been discriminated against or historically excluded, including, among others, internally displaced persons, refugees, and asylum seekers ( A/HRC/42/38 ).
Working group on the issue of discrimination against women and girls	2020	Report presented to 44th session of the HRC in 2020 on women's human rights in the changing world of work , focusing on migrant domestic workers and recommending that States "remove all discrimination against migrant women workers, including in migration policies and laws, including employment laws, and introduce legal safeguards against their exploitation." ( A/HRC/44/51 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 41st session of the HRC in 2019 on the causes of deprivation of liberty of women from a gender perspective , discussing, among other things, how discrimination and stereotyping may also lead to the denial of the asylum claims of migrant women and thus increase their risk of migration-related detention or incarceration for immigration-related offences and the particular risks faced by migrant women, and recommending that States should incorporate laws, policies and effective programmes that will enhance protection from trafficking in persons, irregular migration and contemporary forms of slavery, and establish regular migration channels ( A/HRC/41/33 ).

	2016	Report presented to the 32nd session of the HRC in 2016 on the issue of discrimination against women with regard to health and safety , discussing groups of women who face multiple and intersecting forms of discrimination, including migrant women, and recommending that States should provide health-care coverage for migrant women and domestic workers, whose sexual and reproductive health, preventive health care and protection against gender-based violence are otherwise prejudiced ( A/HRC/32/44 ).
Special Rapporteur on the right to education	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on how the right to education contributes to the prevention of atrocity crimes and mass or grave human rights violations , emphasizing that the implementation of a multi-perspectivity approach in the teaching of geography, including on migration and demographic dynamics would help to foster an understanding of the viewpoints of others, inclusivity, acceptance of diversity and respect for the rights of others and that teaching examples of past migrations alongside those of today would reveal a clearer picture of their complex causes and, in particular, the conditions in which refugees and migrants live, which would help to foster empathy and prevent prejudice in the societies that have been exposed to great waves of immigration in recent migratory crises ( A/74/243 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the situation of refugees with regard to the right to education , in particular in the context of achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, examining specific issues and challenges refugees face in their quest for quality education at all levels, reflecting on best practices and innovative solutions and proposing recommendations to overcome challenges in this area, and concluding by calling upon States to ensure access to inclusive quality education for refugees in line with SDG 4 by mainstreaming this in their national plans and strategies ( A/73/262 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the role of equity and inclusion in strengthening the right to education , in particular in the context of achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, examining particular groups at

involuntary disappearances (continued)		protection and the right to an effective remedy, and international cooperation ( A/HRC/36/39/Add.2 ).
	2016	Report presented to the 33rd session of the HRC in 2016 providing preliminary observations on the issue of enforced disappearances in the context of migration , including on migration caused by enforced disappearances, enforced disappearances of migrants, factors that contribute to the enforced disappearances of migrants, and State obligations in the context of the enforced disappearance of migrants ( A/HRC/33/51 ).
Special Rapporteur on the issue of human rights obligations relating to the enjoyment of a safe, clean, healthy and sustainable environment	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the urgent need to ensure a safe climate for humanity and the right to a healthy environment , stating States have a procedural obligation to ensure an inclusive, equitable and gender-based approach to public participation in all climate-related actions, with a particular emphasis on empowering the most affected populations, including, among others, migrants, and that States have an obligation to cooperate to achieve a low-carbon, climate resilient and sustainable future, which means, among other things, ensuring fair, legal and durable solutions for migrants and displaced persons ( A/74/161 ).
Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Eritrea	2020	Report presented to the 44th session of the HRC in 2020 also focusing on the situation of Eritrean migrants and refugees ( A/HRC/44/23 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 41st session of the HRC in 2019 on the situation of human rights in Eritrea, discussing, among other things, the situation of Eritrean migrants and refugees and asylum policies applicable to Eritrean asylum seekers ( A/HRC/41/53 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 38th session of the HRC in 2018 on the situation of human rights in Eritrea, discussing, among other things, the plight of Eritrean asylum seekers and refugees ( A/HRC/38/50 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 35th session of the HRC in 2017 on the situation of human rights in Eritrea, discussing, among other things, the situation of Eritrean refugees and migrants ( A/HRC/35/39 ).
	2015	Report presented to the 29th session of the HRC in 2015 on the situation of human rights in Eritrea, discussing, among other things, the situation of refugees and migrants as well as unaccompanied minors ( A/HRC/29/41 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions	2021	Wrap-up report presented to the 47 th session of the HRC in 2021, also examining unlawful deaths of refugees and migrants and the criminalization of life-saving actions and organisations ( A/HRC/47/33 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the application of death penalty to foreign nationals and the provision of consular assistance by the home State , examining foreign nationals on death row, including migrants and providing recommendations on the right to adequate consular assistance, and noting friends who are also foreigners or migrants may be unwilling or fearful to provide support or to testify on their behalf ( A/74/318 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the on the criminalization and targeting of humanitarian services and actors , discussing, among other things, the targeting of humanitarian aid to migrants and recommending that the UNGA and Human Rights Council include explicit language exempting and/or protecting humanitarian actions in resolutions on migration and other relevant topics and that States should publicly champion the work of humanitarian actors, whether they provide services in the context of conflict or migration and should also adopt or revise national legislation on smuggling to explicitly exempt humanitarian action from its provisions, covering the facilitation of irregular entry, transit and residence, and ensure that no investigation is opened and no prosecution pursued against private individuals and organizations assisting migrants for humanitarian reasons ( A/73/314 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on unlawful deaths of refugees and migrants in the course of their flight , addressing addresses killings by both State and non-State actors, denouncing a quasi-generalized regime of impunity that is worsened by an absence of accurate data on the dead and missing, and calling urgently on States to address this human rights crisis by prioritizing the protection of the right to life in their migration and refugee policies, and providing several recommendations in this regard ( A/72/335 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 35th session of the HRC in 2017 on a gender-sensitive approach to arbitrary killings , noting that female migrant workers are particularly at risk at facing the death penalty, and

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on extrajudicial, summary or arbitrary executions (continued)		recommending, among other things, that States should ensure access to effective legal representation for incarcerated women, particularly women belonging to disadvantaged minority groups and migrant or refugee women and should also include violence and killings against women and girls, and on the basis of gender identity and gender expression, as an integral part of refugee status determination and of the implementation of their non-refoulement obligations ( A/HRC/35/23 ).
	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 providing an update on some of the areas covered by the mandate from 2010 to 2016 and comments on some of the current issues in the area of the right to life, including in relation to migrants ( A/71/372 ).
	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on, among other things, the application of the death penalty to foreign nationals (including migrant workers) and the responsibilities of States , examining the discriminatory application of the death penalty to, among others, migrant workers, the role of consular assistance, the responsibilities of States of origin or of transfer, and providing conclusions and recommendations on this topic ( A/70/304 ).
Special Rapporteur on the right to food	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the SDGs as a potentially transformative tool to advance the realization of the right to food, as well as other economic, social and cultural rights , discussing urban migration and the impact on and rights of migrants, refugees, and internally displaced persons in this context, the importance of the Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration and that the SDGs reflect the duty of States to protect migrants at all stages of the migratory process (Target 10.7) and to administer access to justice following discriminatory treatment or rights violations (SDG 16) as well as to address remittances (Target 10.C). The report recommends that States should reject xenophobic, divisive and false rhetoric towards migrants, including refugees and internally displaced persons, and extend all human rights protections to non-citizens, in accordance with international human rights law; protect migrants, as rights holders, from discrimination at all stages of the migratory process and provide them with unrestricted access to justice, particularly regarding their right to food; and

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on the right to food ( continued )		introduce short- and long-term strategies to ensure that migrant populations can feed themselves in a dignified manner and have access to decent work opportunities and social protection schemes ( A/74/164 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 40th session of the HRC in 2019 on the rights of agricultural workers and the paradoxical challenge they face in realizing their right to food , discussing, among other things, migrant agricultural workers in this context and recommending that States should improve human rights protection for fishery workers, including those who are informally employed and especially those in categories that are currently vulnerable, including, among others, migrant workers; guarantee the right, including for migrant workers, to establish and join trade unions; and provide safe channels for undocumented migrant workers so that they can anonymously report violations without fear of retribution, respecting the principle of non-refoulement and ensuring that migrants have access to the regular labour market in the host country ( A/HRC/40/56 ).
	2018	Interim report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the right to food of agricultural workers , discussing various human rights of migrant and undocumented workers in this context and recommending that States should improve human rights protection for informal agricultural workers, especially those in presently vulnerable categories, including migratory workers without normal citizenship rights and rule of law protection; provide safe channels for undocumented migrant workers so that they can anonymously report violations without fear of retribution, respecting the principle of non-refoulement and ensuring that migrants have access to the regular labour market in the host country, in cooperation with United Nations agencies and programmes and international organizations; and issue more non-restrictive residential and work permits to seasonal workers and condemn seasonal migration schemes that expel workers from countries after the season lapses ( A/73/164 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the right to food in conflict situations , discussing refugees and internally displaced persons as one of the groups of persons most at risk and recommending that States should prioritize the availability, accessibility and adequacy of food for the most vulnerable populations, including internally displaced persons and refugees, while the international community should revise the rules in relation to refugees to ensure that host countries provide legal status for refugees so that they are able to work, earn a living and protect their assets ( A/72/188 ).

	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on the adverse impact of climate change on the right to food , noting that significant climate-induced migration is expected to force people to move inland and to more food-secure places and recommending that a separate category of “climate refugees” should be recognized in international law and the necessary legal adjustments made to avoid further human catastrophe ( A/70/287 ).
Independent Expert on the effects of foreign debt and other related international financial obligations of States on the full enjoyment of all human rights, particularly economic, social and cultural rights	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the impact of economic reforms, in particular austerity and fiscal consolidation measures, on women’s human rights , addressing, among other things, migrant remittances, noting that migrant women, among others, are most exposed to austerity and fiscal consolidation policies, and recommending that States should ensure that employment regulations and social and legal protection are extended to cover workers in the informal economy and throughout the supply chain; that migrant workers are in countries of origin, destination and transit; and that social protection is provided to all women throughout their lives, without regard to employment, migration or any other status ( A/73/179 ).
Special Rapporteur on the rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association	2023	Report presented to the 53 rd session of the HRC, also focusing on migrant workers and their rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association ( A/HRC/53/38/Add.3 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on the impacts of violations to the rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association on sustainable development , noting that restrictive civic space is linked to the exploitation of workers across different sectors and can exacerbate risks for low-income workers in particular, many of whom are migrant laborers, and that the right to freedom of peaceful assembly is particularly important for non-citizens and migrants ( A/74/349 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the linkages between the exercise of the rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association and the implementation of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development , noting that the 2030 Agenda recognizes the imperative of empowering people who are in vulnerable situations, such as migrants, and discussing how low-income migrant workers face economically exploitative conditions of employment, social exclusion and political disenfranchisement ( A/73/279 ).
	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on the rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association in the workplace , with a focus on the most marginalized portions of the world's labour force, including, among others, migrant workers, and providing several recommendations relevant to migrants, including that States should ensure these rights can be exercised in the workplace by everyone without discrimination on the basis of, among other things, immigration status ( A/71/385 ).
Special Rapporteur on the right of everyone to the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of physical and mental health	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the opportunities and challenges for the realization of the right to mental health of people on the move , presenting human rights-based responses to mental health and migration as transformative opportunities to rebuild and strengthen health and social systems that support and restore dignity, inclusion and rights for everyone and providing recommendations for States and relevant stakeholders within the humanitarian, development and human rights communities to comprehensively address the identified challenges ( A/73/216 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 38th session of the HRC in 2018 on the right to health and specific forms of deprivation of liberty and confinement in penal and medical regimes , discussing, among other things, the detention of migrants in migrant detention centers ( A/HRC/38/36 ).

	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on the important role played by national specialized bodies and national plans of action in preventing and combating racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance , encouraging States that have not done so to seriously consider developing a comprehensive national plan of action against racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance, especially in the global context of a growing rise of xenophobic sentiments in a prolonged migration crisis ( A/71/301 ).
	2016	Report presented to the 32nd session of the HRC in 2016 on the phenomenon of xenophobia and its conceptualization, trends and manifestations , discussion, among other things, xenophobia in the context of the migration crisis and its impact on migrants ( A/HRC/32/50 ).
	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on combating glorification of Nazism and other practices that contribute to fueling contemporary forms of racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance , expressing concern about the continued scapegoating of vulnerable groups, including migrants, asylum seekers and ethnic minorities and urging States to ensure the full and effective implementation of legal, policy and institutional measures protecting, among others, migrants, refugees, and asylum seekers ( A/70/321 ).
	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on collecting disaggregated data with a view to effectively combat racism, racial discrimination, xenophobia and related intolerance , stating that “only by counting the uncounted can we reach the unreached” and recommending that high-quality data, disaggregated by the prohibited grounds of discrimination, including, among others, migrant status, are key to making adequate decisions and monitoring progress towards achieving universal sustainable development ( A/70/335 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion or belief	2021	Report presented to the 46 th session of the HRC in 2021, on Countering Islamophobia/Anti-Muslim Hatred to Eliminate Discrimination and Intolerance Based on Religion or Belief , observing that “Muslims have been targeted with both collective and individualized withdrawals of citizenship in some States while tropes of Muslims as ‘terrorists’ or ‘hostile to equality’ underlie discriminatory immigration policies in others” ( A/HRC/46/30 ).
	2018	Interim report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the interrelationship between freedom of religion or belief and violent extremism , discussing, among other things, that some States have modified various aspects of their legislation to prevent the internal movement of individuals considered to be “extremists”, which can result in discriminatory practices involving religion or belief, and that, contrary to international human rights norms, these practices include initiatives to relocate individuals within their country of residence or nationality, measures that amend the rules applicable to asylum seekers or migrants and steps to review citizenship rules and even revoke citizenship, which have a serious impact on human rights, including the freedom of movement ( A/73/362 ).
	2017	Interim report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the increase in religious intolerance worldwide , discussing, among other things, indirect forms of discrimination, such as travel bans for immigrants or resettling refugees from countries where a majority belong to a particular faith community, and recommending that particular attention must be paid to upholding the obligation to protect the rights of members of religious minorities, as well as those of, among others, migrants, refugees and internally displaced persons ( A/72/365 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 37th session of the UNGA in 2018 on the relationships between State and religion and their impact on freedom of religion or belief , reminding States of their obligation to provide protection to refugees and migrants, regardless of their specific religion or belief, and stating that the pretext that refugees and migrants would erode the traditional religious make-up of a country amounts to a “territorialization” of religion, which violates the spirit and the letter of the universal right to freedom of religion or belief ( A/HRC/37/49 ).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
	2016	Interim report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on the broad range of violations of freedom of religion or belief and their manifold root causes , noting that violations of freedom of religion or belief are among the manifold reasons for people to leave their home and flee their country but that some asylum seekers claims based on violations of their freedom of religion or belief are not taken seriously and that, in the current refugee crisis, many States fail to honour the responsibility they have in accommodating refugees and recommending that the international community should remind Governments of their international obligation to provide protection to refugees, regardless of their specific religion or belief ( A/71/269 ).
Independent expert on protection against violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity	2020	Report presented to the 75 th session of the GA in 2020 on violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity during the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic , focusing on asylum seekers and refugees, migrants ( A/75/258 ).
Independent expert on protection against violence and discrimination based on sexual orientation and gender identity (continued)	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on how discriminatory laws and sociocultural norms continue to marginalize and exclude LGBTQ persons from education, health care, housing, employment and occupation, and other sectors , discussing how the structural vulnerability of LGBTQ persons may be compounded by their status as migrants, asylum seekers and refugees and recommending that States should provided special protection and provision for LGBTQ migrants who face a lack of access to shelter protection in camps ( A/74/181 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the process of abandoning the classification of certain forms of gender as a pathology and the full scope of the duty of the State to respect and promote respect of gender recognition as a component of identity , recommending, among other things, that States should eliminate abusive requirements as prerequisites for change of name, legal sex or gender, which should also extend to ensuring that a person's criminal record, immigration status or other status is not used to prevent a change of name, legal sex or gender ( A/73/152 ).
Report of the Special Rapporteur on the	2020	Report presented to the 43rd session of the HRC in 2020 providing an overview of the Special

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
sale and sexual exploitation of children, including child prostitution, child pornography and other child sexual abuse material		Rapporteur's activities since her previous report, affirming that "[a]ccording to the International Organization for Migration (IOM) children represented 14 per cent of all categories of migrants in 2017" (A/HRC/43/40).
	2020	Report presented to the 43rd session of the HRC in 2020 on the country visit to Bulgaria from 1 to 8 April 2019, noting that "[t]he increase in the number of unaccompanied migrant and asylum-seeking children arriving on its territory in the period 2014–2016 has placed a significant strain on the country's reception system, exacerbating existing gaps" (A/HRC/43/40/Add.1).
	2017	Joint report (with the Special Rapporteur on trafficking) presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the vulnerabilities of children to sale, trafficking, and other forms of exploitation in situations of conflict and humanitarian crisis, discussing, among other groups of children, the vulnerabilities of children on the move, including refugee and migrant children, and recommendation that States, in cooperation with United Nations agencies and programmes, international organizations, host countries and civil society organizations, should, in places where migrants or refugees reside, create safe child-friendly spaces and ensure the provision of health and psychosocial services in addition to ensuring that legislation, policies, measures and practices guarantee child-sensitive due processes in all migration-related administrative and judicial proceedings and to engage in the global compact for safe, orderly and regular migration and the global compact on refugees (A/72/164).
	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on the sale of children for the purpose of forced labour and comprehensive measures to combat this phenomenon, noting that prevention measures must address the factors that make children vulnerable to being sold for the purpose of forced labour and thus should include measures to ensure social protection and safe migration, and inviting States to establish and open more regular migration channels and ensure the protection of all human rights in employment and recommending that residence permits should not be linked to an employer, thus enabling migrant workers to change employment in case of abuse (A/71/261).

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
	2015	Report presented to the 70th session of the UNGA in 2015 on child victims and child-centered care, recovery and reintegration programmes , discussing migrants in this context and stating that a comprehensive, rights-based and child-centered care, recovery and reintegration programme should include, among other things, repatriation and reintegration for migrant victims ( A/70/222 ).
Special Rapporteur on contemporary forms of slavery , including its causes and its consequences	2021	Report presented to the 48th session of the HRC in 2021 on the nexus between displacement and contemporary forms of slavery , also focusing on displaced people with irregular or uncertain migration status ( A/HRC/48/52 ).
	2020	Report presented to the 45th session of the HRC in 2020 on the impact of the coronavirus disease pandemic on contemporary forms of slavery and slavery-like practices , focusing on the COVID-19 impact on migrant workers ( A/HRC/45/8 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 74th session of the UNGA in 2019 on child slavery, the various forms in which it manifests today, and the key obligations on Member States in preventing and addressing child slavery , noting that immigration policy can contribute to the vulnerability of migrant children to slavery and practices similar to slavery because restrictive immigration laws encourage risky migration strategies and create opportunities for traffickers and that a correlation exists between child slavery and conflict and disaster situations (and therefore climate conditions), and recommending that States should ensure that the rights of child victims are adequately protected, so that child slavery is not perpetuated or facilitated as a result of restrictive immigration policies and build and share knowledge of the implications for child slavery of broader global challenges, such as climate change and migration, to ensure effective and joined-up strategies ( A/74/179 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 on whether current anti-slavery efforts are fit for purpose to respond effectively to the contemporary forms of slavery which are widespread today as well as to address future forms and manifestations of contemporary forms of slavery , noting that being a migrant, a refugee, a displaced person or an asylum seeker appears to particularly heighten the risk of slavery, and discussing migrant labour recruitment and demographic trends concerning migration, and

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on contemporary forms of slavery , including its causes and its consequences (continued)		recommending, among other things, that States should strengthen regional and international arrangements for labour migration to reduce the risks of slavery ( A/HRC/42/44 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on the gender-related dimensions of contemporary forms of slavery , discussing, among other things, migrants and the impact of migration status in this context, including that contemporary forms of slavery are fueled by intersecting forms of oppression and inequalities that often result from intersecting factors, such as migration status, and recommending that States should work towards the creation of gender-responsive migration policies, which should include fair and accessible legal access to decent work and safe and fair migratory channels for women and men, and consider measures such as the decoupling of residence permits from specific employment relationships to diminish the risks of contemporary forms of slavery among migrant workers and that consideration should also be given to the development of cooperative, transnational social protection systems ( A/73/139 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the impact of slavery and servitude on marginalized migrant women workers in the global domestic economy , examining State obligations under international human rights law and labour law to protect migrant workers in domestic servitude; women migrant domestic workers, economic policies and causes of servitude; human rights violations and access to justice; the role of private employment agencies; positive measures to protect against domestic servitude; and providing several conclusions and recommendations to States and other stakeholders on this issue ( A/HRC/39/52 ).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the Sustainable Development Goals and slavery eradication efforts , recommending, among other things, that to achieve Target 8.7 and implement the 2030 Agenda, States should ensure policy coherence between all efforts to tackle the socioeconomic drivers of contemporary forms of slavery as part of the full and effective implementation of the Goals and other areas of related policy, including trade and investment,

		discussing the humanitarian situation concerning, among others, internally displaced persons (A/HRC/39/72).
	2016	Report presented to the 33rd session of the HRC in 2016 on the situation of human rights in Somalia, discussing the human rights situation concerning, among others, refugees (A/HRC/33/64).
	2015	Report presented to the 30th session of the HRC in 2015 on the situation of human rights in Somalia, discussing the human rights situation concerning, among others, refugees and internally displaced persons (A/HRC/30/57).
Independent Expert on the situation of human rights in the Sudan	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 on the situation of human rights in the Sudan, discussing the humanitarian situation with regard to, among others, internally displaced persons (A/HRC/42/63).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the situation of human rights in the Sudan, discussing main human rights challenges, including South Sudanese refugees in the Sudan (A/HRC/39/71).
	2017	Report presented to the 36th session of the HRC in 2017 on the situation of human rights in the Sudan, discussing, among other things, the situation of South Sudanese refugees in the Sudan and the issue of illegal migration and trafficking (A/HRC/36/63).
	2016	Report presented to the 33rd session of the HRC in 2016 on the situation of human rights in the Sudan, discussing, among other things, the situation of South Sudanese refugees in Eastern Darfur (A/HRC/33/65).
Special Rapporteur on the promotion and protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms while countering terrorism	2016	Report presented to the 71st session of the UNGA in 2016 on the impact of counter-terrorism measures on the human rights of migrants and refugees , concluding that, as part of an effective counterterrorism policy, it is essential to have a comprehensive migration policy that respects human rights, justice, accountability, human dignity, equality and non-discrimination and making several recommendations in this regard, including that irregular migration should not be criminalized ( A/71/384 ).
Special Rapporteur on torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment	2019	Report presented to the 40th session of the HRC in 2019 on the relationship between corruption and torture or ill-treatment , addressing, among other things, irregular migration and migration detention centers in this context, and recommending that

MANDATE	YEAR	REPORT DESCRIPTION
Special Rapporteur on torture and other cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment (continued)		States, monitoring mechanisms and civil society stakeholders should focus their efforts specifically on contexts particularly prone to corruption and torture or ill-treatment, including, the extra-custodial use of force and other coercive powers by State officials or private security contractors in relation to, among other things, immigration control; persons who are deprived of their liberty or institutionalized without their free and informed consent in, among others, migration centers; and policies, procedures and practices relating to asylum, migration and border control, including the treatment and living conditions of irregular migrants and the application of the principle of non-refoulement with regard to the risk of torture and ill-treatment ( A/HRC/40/59 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 73rd session of the UNGA in 2018 on achievements and primary challenges concerning the universal implementation of the absolute prohibition of torture and ill-treatment , addressing the concept of non-refoulement, policies that push increasing numbers of migrants into irregular migration, State cooperation agreements creating “pullbacks” preventing migrants from leaving a State, and the intersecting vulnerabilities faced by irregular migrants, and recommending that open-ended administrative detention without regular independent review should be abolished, as should detention or forced institutionalization based exclusively on, among other things, a person’s migration status, and that personnel tasked with determining migration status should be provided with function-specific training in the identification and documentation of the signs of torture and ill-treatment in accordance with the Istanbul Protocol ( A/73/207 ).
	2018	Report presented to the 37th session of the UNGA in 2018 on migration-related torture and ill-treatment , examining the legal framework, migration-related detention, the smuggling and trafficking of migrants, non-refoulement, and implications under international criminal law, and providing several recommendations with a view to ensuring compliance with the prohibition of torture and ill-treatment, avoiding protection gaps and preventing impunity for violations in the context of migration ( A/HRC/37/50 ).

		torturous conditions of confinement , examining, among other things, the situation of children in administrative immigration detention institutions and making recommendations on this issue ( A/HRC/28/68 ).
Special Rapporteur on trafficking in persons, especially women and children	2023	Report presented to the 53 rd session of the HRC in 2023, highlighting States' obligations to prevent trafficking in internal displacement and refugee settings , to ensure effective access to asylum and to comply with the principle of non-refoulement ( A/HRC/53/28 ).
	2022	Report presented to the 50 th session of the HRC in 2022, focusing on trafficking in persons in the agriculture sector: human rights due diligence and sustainable development , and addressing the rights of agricultural workers in seasonal, temporary and circular migration ( A/HRC/50/33 ).
	2021	Report presented to the 47 th session on the HRC in 2021 on the implementation of the non-punishment principle , also demanding the non-criminalization of migrants who are victims of the crime of trafficking in persons ( A/HRC/47/34 ).
	2020	Report presented to the 75 th session of the GA in 2020 on implementing and going beyond the Protocol to Prevent, Suppress and Punish Trafficking in Persons, Especially Women and Children, supplementing the United Nations Convention against Transnational Organized Crime towards a human rights-centred approach , reflecting on the negative impact of restrictive migration policies on the protection of trafficked and exploited persons ( A/75/169 ).
	2020	Report presented to the 44 th session of the HRC in 2020 taking stock of her previous research and reports, and analyses protection gaps in the legal and policy framework to prevent and combat trafficking , focusing on moving away from the traditional identification model towards early support for trafficked persons, including in the context of mixed migration movements ( A/HRC/44/45 ).
	2019	Report presented to the 74 th session of the UNGA in 2019 on remediation responses for workers who are victims of trafficking in persons and severe exploitation in businesses' operations and supply chains , noting the main challenge identified was the overarching fear of vulnerable workers in the supply chain, including migrant workers, of losing their livelihoods and that migrant workers' fear of being

		domestic violence and the “peace in the home” initiative, noting that “In some countries, shelters are not available to certain groups of the population, such as non-nationals and immigrants,” and that “migrant women face particular barriers to accessing critical services” (A/75/144).
	2017	Report presented to the 72nd session of the UNGA in 2017 on the adequacy of the international legal framework on violence against women, noting that a key aspect is secondary protection for women and girls after violence had taken place to avoid further violence and secondary victimization, and, in that regard, there should be accessible shelters and durable housing solutions, including that the reception of refugee and migrant women needed to be in facilities which were safe (where they would not be mixed with men and therefore in danger) (A/72/134).
	2016	Report presented to the 32nd session of the HRC in 2016 identifying several thematic priorities for the mandate, including, among others, the protection of women and girls in the context of forced displacement and refugee flows (A/HRC/32/42).
Special Rapporteur on the implications for human rights of the environmentally sound management and disposal of hazardous substances and wastes	2020	Report presented to the 45th session of the HRC in 2020 on the duty to prevent exposure to the virus responsible for COVID-19, noting that “migrants in various countries show the highest levels of contagions and deaths from COVID-19, given their lack of access to medical care” (A/HRC/45/12).
	2019	Report presented to the 42nd session of the HRC in 2019 presenting a final set of principles to help States, businesses and other key actors respect and protect workers from toxic occupational exposures and to provide remedies for violations of their rights, and noting that those most at risk of exposure are also those who are often the most vulnerable to exploitation, including, among others, migrant workers, and that migrant and temporary workers have a right to equality and to enjoy equal treatment to nationals in respect of safety and health and other conditions of work (A/HRC/42/41).
	2018	Report presented to the 39th session of the HRC in 2018 on the situation of workers implicated and affected by occupational exposure to toxic and otherwise hazardous substances worldwide, discussing, among others, migrant workers in this context and stating that States have heightened duties regarding the protection of workers at elevated
